Trip Summary

1. TRIP SUMMARY This 5-day cultural and culinary expedition to Delhi, India, is designed for two travelers with a focus on historical immersion and gastronomic exploration. With a budget of $2,000, this itinerary balances comfort and accessibility, taking you from the Mughal foundations of Old Delhi to the colonial architecture of the New Delhi district. The plan is meticulously structured to navigate the current extreme weather conditions by prioritizing early morning site visits and air-conditioned indoor experiences. ### 2. DESTINATION OVERVIEW Delhi is a sprawling metropolis that serves as the heart of India's history. It is a city of layers, where 17th-century Mughal monuments coexist with British colonial planning and a modern, bustling urban center. It is globally renowned for its diverse food culture, ranging from ancestral street food stalls to sophisticated, high-end contemporary cuisine. ### 3. WEATHER SUMMARY * Temperature: ~41-43°C (Extreme Heat). * Humidity: ~23% (Dry). * Conditions: Intense, direct sunlight. * AI Strategy: Adopt a "Split-Day" schedule: 7:00 AM – 10:30 AM for outdoor heritage sites, 12:00 PM – 4:00 PM for indoor museums and air-conditioned dining, and late evening for atmospheric walks. ### 4. RECOMMENDED HOTELS * The Metropolitan Hotel & Spa: ~$145/night. Location: Connaught Place. Best for professional service and central access. * Hotel Jukaso Inn Down Town: ~$95/night. Location: Connaught Place. Best for a boutique, cozy atmosphere. * Bloom Hotel - Janpath: ~$80/night. Location: Janpath. Best for modern, minimalist comfort and extreme cleanliness. ### 5.
